MISCELLANEOUS READING. I COMMUNICATED. TO MISS ---, OF WESTMORELAND. Lady, I've gazed upon thy brow,

And thought of some pure star, Shining in the blue depths of heaven, Above us mortals farl I would have bowed before thy shrine, And worshipped always there,

But one so robed in purity, For me seemed all too fair. I knew a pearl so pure and white, Were more than I could gain,

So bowed my head submissively. An' strove to hide all pain. I do not weep, I cannot find, Even that poor relief, Mine is the sorrow of the soul,

That never ends its grief. And yet I'm proud the eye of man, Must never see my pain, For I can "love and loving live And not be loved again.'

The autumn leaves are fading, And thou'lt leave us for thy home, And I, a wanderer thro' the world, In loneliness must roam! Fauquier County, Va.

THE JEWS OF NEW YORK CITY. The New York correspondent of the Chris-

"I am edified weekly, in remarking the scrupulousness with which some of the extensive and fashionable establishments on Broadway, kept by Jews, are closed on Saturday; the sacrifice involved being the more noteworthy from the reputation of these re-200 markable people for money-getting. How-100,000 ever, the poorer and less educated portion of the race avenge this ecclesiastically enforced business on Sunday, as a walk though Chatham street on that day will prove. There are in New York now seventeen synagogues, among which the Shaaria Tephila (Gates of Prayer) Bnai Jeshura, (sons of Jeshura) and Certificates of Packages, 10 wle. tickets, $80 00 | the Temple, are the finest speciments of arch-

"The number of Jews in New York is probably not far from twenty thousand. Of States, Pennsylvania ranges next; South Carolina and Ohio follow. The number in the world is variously estimated at from four to six millions. According to the lower estimate two millions are apportioned to Europe, (of which Russia and Poland have six bundred thousand) Asia eight hundred thousand; Africa six hundred thousand; and America one hundred thousand. Of the practical wisdow of the custom prevalent among even the most opuleut Jews, and which they observe in common with many European monarchs, of educating their children to some their immediate or presumptive pecuniary circumstances, I have in mind an illustrative Address orders for tickets or certificates to instance. During the commercial revulsion of 1836, an eminent and wealthy Hebrew Persons residing near Montgomery, Ala., banking and brekerage house in Wall street or Atlanta, Ga., can have their orders filled, and was prostrated, with hunderds of others .save time, by addressing S. SWAN & CO., at One member of the house, who had been bred to the profession of medicine, according to usage, but with no anticipation of engaging from the wheel, with the amount of the prize in its practice, was by this reverse of fortune thrown upon this reserve. He immediately established himself as physician, and is to
